PC Power is an all-volunteer organization. We have no paid employees. Most of our volunteers have full-time jobs and families, but give their time because they want to help us fill as many computer applications as possible. PC Power does not charge for the computers we provide and we do not require recipients to do volunteer work in return for their computer. We do hope, though that you might consider spending a few hours helping us so that we can help others. Even if you have no computer skills, there are many ways you or your family can help others receive a computer. If you'd like to know more, call us or visit our web site.

We base our decision on demonstrated financial need as well as evidence that the computer will be used in a way that will provide maximum educational, vocational, or therapeutic benefit to the recipient and his or her family members. Applications will normally be processed within two weeks of receipt, and notifications will be made by telephone or mail.
